PA NEW OBSERVES

Observation from a downtown office building reveals that the work of razing the old Shenango Valley hospital, has been completed. All that remains is the old laundry, which may be devoted to the use of some small industry.

New street signs recently erected on the main thoroughfares of the city, do not seem to have been made to stand the weather. Many of them are already considerable rusted and most of them show visible signs of weather effects, already.

There was quite a heavy rain at 4:30 this morning, according to those who were up at that hour. Gardens and lawns benefitted greatly, lawns which had been showing brown patches from the heat and dry weather, having turned quite green again during the last two days.

According to motorists, who have been over U. S. highway 224, between Edenburg and the Ohio line, there is a big sign near Carbon, which reads as follows: "If you like this road, write to Warren VanDyke, Secretary of Highways, Harrisburg, Pa." The road has been in poor condition for several years, it is said.

Camp-life is appealing to New Castle girls greater than ever before. Camp East Brook of the Y. W. C. A. is on the last lap of its most successful course. It has accommodated 150 young girls during this season. Girl Scout camp, at Kennedy's Mills, will open early in August and registrations have been received in such numbers that a full camp is assured. Girl Scout Day Camp which has been conducted at Cascade Park three days each week of July has been attracting close to 100 girls each day.

Reynoldstown and Mullettowners will have their reunions on the same day—Tuesday, August 13. The choice is a good one because of Wednesday, August 14, being Old Timers Day. Many of the out-towners who come for the reunions will stay over for the Park festivities.

Gaston Park seems to be getting its share of the picnic clientele.

A pair of newlyweds surrounded by their friends were drawn through town last night in a trailer attached to an automobile. They were accompanied by a caravan of cars.

A sign on one of the downtown churches reads as follows: "Every body Welcome, No Evening Service."

Several of the new posts for the street signs along Washington street are very dangerous to pedestrians. The two metal bars hanging at such an angle that it just comes even

Westwood To Face New Quiz

Detectives Fail To Secure Any Clues From Those Already Grilled

OFFICERS CHECKING ALL STORIES GIVEN

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 24—Their round-up of "mystery men" sought in connection with the murder of Mrs. Martha Westwood having proved valueless, authorities today turned once more to members of the family of the slain woman.

Her husband, James J. Westwood, McKees Rocks peace justice, and his 19-year-old daughter, Bertha, were to be quizzed again by detectives. It was Bertha who found her mother slain in their home last July 10.

All of the so-called "mystery" figures in the case have been located, but have produced no definite clues for authorities. The principal figure among those who have figured in the case, Patsy Valenti, Coropolis, was ready to post $2,500 bond for his release when authorities admitted they had nothing on him.

Joe Dundee, brought here from Elyria, O., for questioning was still detained secretly as detectives checked his stories. Denying he had been in the vicinity of the Westwood home at the time of the killing, Dundee was, however, quoted as admitting Valenti paid his bill at a McKees Rocks hotel the night before the murder.

Two others involved in the case were released on $2,500 bail. They were Adam Kasparian, employee of the hotel where Dundee said he stayed overnight, and Joe Soldadi, who said to have told detectives he saw Valenti near the Westwood apartment.

Mrs. Meta Bridenbaugh Beck In Mission School Shelled By Japanese Gunboat

OCCUPANTS OF SCHOOL UNINJURED

P. H. Bridenbaugh, athletic director at the Senior high school, is anxiously awaiting word from his sister, Mrs. Meta Bridenbaugh Beck, who is located at the American Missionary school of Huping college, Yochow, China, which was reported to have been shelled by machine gun bullets by a Japanese gunboat last Thursday.

The incident was reported yesterday at Hankow, China, by Rev. Beck's brother, Rev. Edwin Beck, of Tiffin, O., on his arrival at that place. Rev. Beck stated that the incident was not accidental, as had been suggested by Japanese authorities.

American consular authorities at Hankow stated that they had received an eye-witness account of the incident, but had withheld it from publication for fear of harming American Japanese relations.

According to Rev. Beck, the life of every person in the college building and residences for foreigners was imperiled by the shower of machine gun bullets, but none was reported injured.

Bathing Girls Enter Protest

Protest Arrest Of New York Woman For Wearing abbreviated Swim Suit

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 24—Picketing with placards screaming "down with bathing suit laws", nine modern girls with old fashioned bathing suits today took up the cause of bigger and better brevity.

Objects of their wrath are the "prudish" bluecoats who found fault with the swimming attire of Mona Leslie, night club dancer, at a nearby New Jersey amusement park swimming pool.

Five hours in the cooler for appearing in what Officer Donald Webber decided was much too little, left Mona, the leading picket, was just as "burned up" today as she was upon her arrest.

"We" asked Mona, "do they think they are? I go swimming to swim, and I'm not going to do it in a nightgown."

But as she took her place in the picket line with eight other seething mermaids today Mona was attired in a garment just as old fashioned.

Grandma remembers it, a black sateen bathing suit with a very, very wide skirt reaching unblushingly to the knees, high neck, sleeves and pantalettes ankle long.

Three State Dictators In Mexico Facing Expulsion Or Death

By ARTHUR CONSTANTINE International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1935, By International News Service)
MEXICO CITY, July 24—Three state dictators faced expulsion and possible death today as the state-directed rebellion of more than 20,000 peasants on the east coast to the Texas border threatened to spread all over the country.

Two of the rebel followers of President Lázaro Cardenas were killed at Villa Juarez, in the state of Tamaulipas, where the "Campeños" overthrew municipal governments in 30 towns to oust supporters of ex-President Plutarco Elias Calles.

All night long three thousand peasants besieged a defunct Governor Rafael Villareal in the Tamaulipas state legislative palace at the capital, Victoria, demanding his resignation. Seven thousand more waited outside the town, ready to march on the capitol at a command from their leaders.

Refuses To Resign. Mounting machine guns atop the palace, Gov. Villareal truculently affirmed his refusal to resign, saying he had been assured of support from a score of towns.

Thomas Garrido Canabal of Tamaulipas and Saturnino Ocorrio of Queretaro were the other dictators whose long and lucrative rules seemed doomed. Ominous rumblings were also heard from Sinaloa, on the west (Continued On Page Two)

Former Pittsburgh City Employee Held For 18 Burglaries

PITTSBURGH, July 24—N. P. Regelman, former city employee, waived hearing and was held under $4,000 bond today in connection with burglaries in 18 fashionable homes. Two others, Robert Benson and Raymond Schaffer, were held in $1,000 bonds for receiving stolen goods.

Regelman, former chief plumbing inspector for Pittsburgh, was employed in the clerk of courts office when arrested. Some of the loot taken in the burglaries, which included valuable furnishings, oriental rugs and rare clocks, has been recovered.

Name Edmunds For New Office

Registrar Of Graves Becomes Registration Clerk By Appointment

WILL COMBINE BOTH COUNTY JOBS

County commissioners have chosen Registrar of Graves Thomas Edmunds as registration clerk under the new permanent registration act. Mr. Edmunds will do the work in connection with his duties as registrar of graves at a increase in salary. Since he was elected registrar of graves Mr. Edmunds has compiled complete lists of deceased soldiers of the county. This has entailed considerable work, but now that it is completed his duties are largely confined to new registrations, and he has more time at his disposal.

The commissioners, in selecting Mr. Edmunds as registration clerk, considered it a matter of economy to combine the two positions. He will probably need some help in getting the system started, but once it is in operation, he will be able to handle it himself.

The registration bureau will be located in the waiting room which adjoins the commissioners' private office at the southwest corner of the courthouse. Some alterations will be made for the accommodation of filing cases, but there will still be sufficient room for present needs.

Plan To Resume Work On Croton Avenue Fence

Project Approval For Job Is Asked Among Others Submitted

Work on the stone fence along the top of Croton avenue wall should be resumed within a short time, the local approval for the project going into Harrisburg today, along with some other project approvals. Other projects sent to Harrisburg for approval are: the engineer corps for the city of New Castle, wiring the Fairview and Harbor schools in Union township, and the federal housing survey here.

Projects that have gone from Harrisburg to Washington for final approval are route 30 in North Beaver township, route 30 in Shenango township, a water pipe line to the sewage disposal plant in the seventh ward, and street and sidewalk improvements in Taylor township.

All projects started under the CWA and the RWD which are unfinished will be completed as soon as possible, J. Vale Downie, director, has announced. Mr. Downie is anxious to clean up a number of old projects and will get them started as soon as possible.

Extend Rural Route In Highland Heights

Nearly 16 families in the newly developed section of Highland Heights, who now must go to the Pinchot road there for their mail, will be given door service after August 1 as a result of the post office department's approval of an eight-tenths of a mile addition to Route No. 5.

Postmaster Richard A. Steen said the addition will afford "door delivery" for those who previously were forced to walk a considerable distance to the main road boxes.

It was the first extension of a rural route here in some time.

NEW MAIL BOXES

Several new mail boxes will appear shortly on the corners of the city's residential streets, Postmaster Richard A. Steen, announcing the arrival of a shipment of six or seven boxes, said today.

They were sent here to replace worn-out receptacles.

Canoe Alibi Again Fails Slayer

The overturned canoe, which failed Clyde Griffiths, the original "American Tragedy" slayer and more recently Bobby Edwards, as an alibi in a love slaying, tripped up Newell Paige Sherman (top), scion of an old New England family, who was bound over to the grand jury at Worcester, Mass., charged with murder of his 22-year-old wife. Police say Sherman finally confessed tipping his wife (below), mother of his two children, from a canoe in hopes of being able to marry 17-year-old mill girl, Esther Magill, after saying drowning was accidental. Miss Magill was exonerated of all connection with crime. (Central Press)

General Strike In Terre Haute Quickly Ended

City Returns To Normal This Morning As Tie-up Is Brought To Close

GUARDSMEN STILL REMAIN IN CITY

Expect Martial Law Decree To Be Lifted Shortly By Governor

By EUGENE J. CADOU International News Service Staff Correspondent

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 24—Terre Haute returned to normalcy today, after being held in the grip of a general strike for two days.

Restaurants and stores were open for business, deliveries of food and milk were resumed.

Except for the presence of 2,000 National Guardsmen, called out when martial law was declared, and of federal labor conciliators and labor leaders, life of the city resumed its normal trend and 65,000 citizens, terror-stricken by riots and possibility of a food, milk and ice shortage for 48 hours, breathed a sigh of relief.

Martial law, established yesterday, was expected to be lifted soon.

Strike Called Off The strike was called off with dramatic suddenness last night, following a meeting of the Vigo County Central Labor Council, representing 48 unions.

Thomas N. Taylor, American Federation of Labor organizer, in announcing termination of the general strike declared labor leaders believed "the situation" is now able to handle the situation. The labor troubles which resulted (Continued On Page Two)

England says the old armament treaties of Washington in 1922 are dead, that it wound the pride of nations to be told that they were inferior. That's right, a nation can be small, but it don't want it put in treaties that it's small.

Besides, it's the little nations that should be allowed the most armament. Lack of armament got nothing to do with wars. Abyssinia has just got so many six-foot boys and arrows, and so many nine-foot ones.

BREAKS WITH ROOSEVELT

Supporter Says Policies Wrong

Famed New York Attorney In Open Letter Attacks New Deal Theories

NOT GAMBLER ENOUGH TO FOLLOW ALONG

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 24.—Amos R. E. Pinchot, famed New York attorney and publicist who with his brother, former Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, was one of Franklin D. Roosevelt's staunchest supporters in the 1932 campaign, today came out in opposition to the New Deal administration.
Termining the president's "great uncertainty," Pinchot revealed his break with the administration in an open letter to his friends, Professor Felix Frankfurter of the Harvard Law School. Dr. Frankfurter is an outstanding representative of the "brain trust."
In his letter Pinchot characterized President Roosevelt's major policies as a "ghastly" and "expensive failure." The New Deal ideology, he charged, has prolonged the depression, he added:
"A sensible money policy is just about the one chance Roosevelt has left of making his administration go."

Not Supporting New Deal
"I confess," Pinchot revealed, "I am no longer gambler enough to support the New Deal."

In place of the administration's current fiscal policies, Pinchot urged reflection, asserting:
"The literal truth is that nothing but deflation with an increased gold price can get our farmers on their feet."

"If I wanted to help make Roosevelt sure of reelection, I'd try to get him to see he can't have a prosperous country with pauper farmers, or with a debt structure made unbearable by violent change in the value of equities and products."

Need Stable Money Policy
"Above all, I'd try to persuade him to go back, just as fast as he can, to his 1933 deflation and stable money policy—to the restoration of the normal price level policy, which went along beautifully and caused real recovery until he abandoned it."

Recovery spurred by the administration's 1933 money policy was checked by advent of the NRA, Pinchot continued.
He asserted the president is "failing because he follows no consecutive line, and apparently doesn't think things through to the end."

To illustrate, Pinchot said the president permits price fixing by big business and at the same time supports the Sherman anti-trust law.

Capitalism Not Dying
Capitalism is not dying, opinions of some "brain trusters" to the contrary notwithstanding, Pinchot contended, saying:
"I think capitalism is a tough old bird that will live a good deal longer than any of us will. I also believe that, with certain definite exceptions, industry should be run privately, and with only such interference from the government as is necessary to provide equal opportunity and prevent monopoly."

After praising Professor Frankfurter, Pinchot's letter concluded:
"Perhaps I'm getting old. Perhaps I'm lacking in sporting spirit. But, I confess I'm no longer gambler enough to support the New Deal."

coast, domain of Governor Manuel Paez, who recently became the father-in-law of ex-President Calles, who is now in California.

Today's peasant uprising was inspired by the socialistic-inclined government, determined to consolidate its position and wipe out all power of General Calles, with whom President Cardenas split a few weeks ago.

Directly blaming Garrido for the killing of five students in a political massacre at Villa Hermosa last week, President Cardenas ordered the present government of Tobasco wiped out and completely reorganized with new elements.

To Disarm "Red Shirts".
To back up his denunciation the president dispatched four thousand additional federal troops to Tobasco to disarm Garrido's "red shirts," and he appointed General Miguel Henríquez as new military commander of Tobasco.

Governor Osorio of Queretaro faced court trial for the alleged murder of Enrique Rio, owner of the Cuernavaca Casino, who was slain in jail under Osorio's orders, according to police.

Urged on by former President Emilio Portes Gil, now president of the National Revolutionary party, thousands of peasants began stretching early outside towns stretching from Vera Cruz to Nuevo Laredo, just across the Rio Grande from Laredo, Texas. At a signal, they marched in and ousted all supporters of Villareal and Calles.

Five thousand "Campeños" participated in the insurrection at Tampico. Besides Victoria, the peasants met with resistance at Matamoros, where Mayor Enrique Munguía, defying demands of two thousand Aviators that his government retire, threw a police cordon around the city plaza.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND TO PLAN PEACE MOVE

George Clerk, British ambassador in Paris.

See Trouble In Colonies

Sir George also warned Laval of possible trouble in French and British colonies in Africa regarding the outcome of the Abyssinian struggle.

Britain and France thereupon agreed jointly to approach Mussolini with a compromise plan giving Italy more authority in Abyssinia. The hope, however, was felt that Mussolini, who insists on full political control there, would accept, and the league council would have to handle the delicate matter, probably on July 29.

Capt. Anthony Eden, British minister for league affairs, will confer with Laval today on this question on his way to Geneva.

In authoritative British quarters the feeling was openly expressed that, if Japan should become involved in the Ethiopian war, a world conflagration would be inevitable.

Black Dragons Want Action

Tokyo, July 24.—Members of the powerful Black Dragon Society, ultra-nationalist organization, called on the Japanese government today to take "adequate measures" to settle the Italo-Abyssinian dispute.

Coincident with a press campaign accusing Italy of attempting to split the white and colored races, leaders of the society drafted a cable to Premier Mussolini denouncing his armed pressure upon Ethiopia and then placed their case before the ministers of foreign affairs, war and navy.

In its cable to Mussolini, the society branded his African imperialism as contrary to the precepts of international policy and urged him to withdraw his troops and abandon his policy of aggression.

The Black Dragon is one of the most powerful societies in Japan. Its pressure was largely responsible for Japan's declaration of war against Russia in 1904 and for Japan's recent withdrawal from the League of Nations.

patches from Rome reporting many press threats, said to be officially inspired, "warning" Britain not to allow the export of arms to Abyssinia.

One of these dispatches which evoked widespread comment quoted the Italian newspaper La Verre as stating "Italy may act as judge with salvo and cannon," on the subject of sending British and Japanese arms to Abyssinia.

Diplomatic rumors that Britain had decided to await the opening of Italo-Abyssinian hostilities before charting her course also were aired in Commons.

Replying to a suggestion of Oswald Lewis, Conservative, that members of the League of Nations Council make a joint declaration to take immediate steps to carry out their obligations in the event a member country invaded another, Sir Samuel said he did not believe such a declaration in general terms would serve a useful purpose.

The house then cheered a supplementary request by Lewis asking the government to find out the position of council members before hostilities break out. Sir Samuel declined to reply to this.

The foreign minister also declined to answer the suggestion of Frederick MacQuisten, Conservative, to find out whether the United States "won't come in and take a hand."

with the average persons eye. A person running into one of these might receive a very serious injury.

It is noticed that nearly all of the cement on the walks of the North Street Bridge is cracked and peeled off. This makes a very rough walk and not a very good appearance for the city.

The closeness of the atmosphere last night chased quite a number of people from their homes to the park benches about the city. The largest number were seen in the park on the Diamond.

School days and past amusing incidents will be talked over by a certain group identified as the Lawrence school students on Thursday, when they assemble for their annual reunion at Cascade park.

A lad about ten years of age curled up on the front porch swing and his pet bull pup curled about his feet, beneath a big blanket, was one of the sights discovered by Pa Newc this morning, enroute to work.

At the Boyles avenue home of Edwin M. McBride, the superintendent of the seventh ward branch of the city's post office, there is an evening primrose that has attracted many a neighbor, Pa Newc has discovered. The plant happens to be one which was imported to this country.

One wouldn't think it just in driving by but inside the public school buildings, or many of them, there's a rush of activity these days. School repairs must be completed now within about a month and a half—for the opening bells ring September 9.

Postmaster Richard A. Steen, Pa Newc learns, is completing arrangements for the opening of an uptown post office. It is expected, unless unforeseen complications turn up, that the site of the "accommodation" branch will be announced shortly.

That rain the New Castle district got just after daylight today certainly helped "to spoil the little potatoes," as one rural man said, adding "helped to make them bigger ones."

The crops will benefit from it. One farmer reports that he will have 200 bushels of wheat and oats this year as compared to "a crop that wasn't worth thrashing last summer."

Surprising as it seems, few motorists, while parking downtown, realize the meaning of the yellow curb lines. They indicate "no parking" but to many, Pa Newc observed last night, it doesn't seem so.

In the general strike may also be ended soon, Charles L. Richardson, of Washington, and Harry E. Schreck, of Chicago, Department of Labor conciliators, said today.

Only a few hours after announcement of termination of the general walkout, the federal officials discussed a settlement of the strike of some 500 employees of the Columbian Enameling and Stamping Company which caused the huge sympathy cessation of work here.

The two conciliators, after a four-hour conference with C. B. Gorbey, president of the Columbian Company, announced he had agreed to meet a committee of employees. Failure to recognize the union of company employees had been one of the grievances of the strikers, who had quit work March 23.

Gorbey also conditionally consented to withdraw from his plant more than 75 strike breakers whose activities were the immediate cause of the general strike. The condition was that Governor Paul V. McNutt should guarantee police protection for the company's properties. Gorbey took the stand that local police protection was inadequate.

Gorbey's acquiescence ended the general strike. When terms of the agreement were announced to Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward McGrady, over the telephone, he approved the arrangement but insisted that Richardson and Schreck remain here to see the compromise fulfilled.

Peter Wright Returns To City

Uncle Of Joe Louis, Famous Fighter, Enjoys Biggest Thrill

LOUIS NOT COMING
HERE THIS SUMMER

Peter Wright, Louist street, uncle of famous Joe Louis, negro heavyweight champion of the world, returned from a visit with the fighter at Detroit, and in speaking of the battle on Long Island, said today: "When Joe won I cheered. It was the first time I cheered since the Armistice."

After witnessing the fight as the guest of Louis, he accompanied the other members of the Louis family who attended the fight on a motor trip through Canada which ended at the Louis home in Detroit. He has been there for several weeks, he stated.

Asked if Louis intended to come to New Castle soon, Wright said that his nephew is too busy with training and other affairs and he does not expect the Detroit Bomber to come here. Louis is training at Chicago for a battle with Kingfish Levinsky, at Chicago soon.

His Biggest Thrill
"The fight was the biggest thrill I have ever had and when Louis was awarded the fight I cheered. It was the first time I cheered since the Armistice," said Wright.

Wright, who explained that all of Louis' family with the exception of one sister were at the battle. Wright said that Louis is the same kind of a boy today he was in the days when Wright helped to raise him in LaFayette, Chames county, Ala. Although Joe is a famous fighter, he obeys everything his mother says," Wright stated. "And he hasn't forgotten his Uncle Peter," said Wright, who went on to tell how the colored pugilist had him travel in the Louis family car via Canada to Detroit and of his being entertained while he was in Detroit. "Three weeks went like one day," said Wright.

"Joe wanted me to bring my family to Detroit. He told me things could be arranged for me there, but I decided that I had stayed away too long and it was time for me to get back to my business," said Wright in his Louist street home.

He said that Louis is under constant surveillance by authorities so that any attempt to kidnap the famous fighter can be foiled. Louis seldom attends receptions and is more intent on keeping in condition for future engagements, Wright said.

Funeral March Of N. R. A. Is Halted By Court Decree

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 24.—The funeral march of the N. R. A. was halted, at least temporarily, today when the code authority of the coat and suit industry was given a new lease on life by Supreme Court Justice Aaron J. Levy.

Ruling code authorities have not outlived their usefulness, despite the United States supreme court decision holding compulsory compliance with the regulations of the N. R. A. unconstitutional, the justice refused to appoint a receiver for coat and suit code authority or enjoin its members from continuing to function.

Justice Levy said that local code authorities may prove quite useful to industries whose members may voluntarily observe a code authority rules and expressed "extreme doubt" that members of a code might regain their assessments paid to support the code.

Musmanno Hurls Grave Charges At H. Edgar Barnes

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 24.—H. Edgar Barnes' resignation as secretary of revenue to campaign for the state supreme court as the Democratic nominee was "an empty gesture," Judge Michael A. Musmanno, his opponent on both the Republican and Democratic tickets, declared today.

"He is resigning but he is leaving his oversights in the office so that he can come back after the election," Musmanno, who arrived here to file his nominating petitions, asserted.

"If he had stated that, in the event of defeat at the polls, he would not accept reappointment, then his pretended sacrifice to a principle might mean something. He holds office through appointment, not election, so that his resignation is meaningless. He may get his job back at any time he wants it."

Beer Was "Run" Despite Bullets

Murderous Gangland Warfare Did Not Stop Beer Running, Court Learns

(International News Service)

COURTHOUSE, MALONE, N. Y., July 24.—Murderous gangland wars did not interrupt the routine beer deliveries of the Dutch Schultz mob during the reign of Arthur Flegenheimer as Bronx beer baron, the government bared before a federal court jury here today.

Marching a dozen New York policemen, many of the homicide squad, to the witness stand, assistant U. S. Attorney John H. Burke, had them relate how Dutch calmly grabbed a truck and went over to Jersey for a load of prohibition brew after his partner, Joey Noe, had been assassinated by machine gunning gangsters.

Noe, riddled with bullets, died a month later with his lips sealed.

Must Be Served
In a conversation with Inspector Arthur A. Carey, retired commander of the homicide squad, Schultz, according to the testimony, felt "that his customers must be served."

Under the direction of Martin Conboy, special assistant attorney general, "Bo" Weinberg, Rocco De Lami and Charlie Miller, former henchmen of Schultz, made brief courtroom appearances as the police witnesses identified them as associates of the beer baron.

It was apparent the government intended to exhaust every means in bringing the affluent racketeer's gangster background right out in the open.

Gang shootings crept into the testimony from the very outset as the prosecution spared nothing in its attempt to blacken Schultz before the mountain jury. And Conboy forced it into the evidence despite the bitter protests of Dutch's battery of lawyers.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Fogle and son George, Jr., left New Castle today for their home in New York City, after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. John G. Nothdurft of Centennial avenue.

Thomas Booher of Countyline street and William Allison of Spruce street left for their camp which is located about one mile beyond Slippery Rock. They expect to spend the remainder of the summer there.

Miss Marjorie Rhodes, of Beckford street, Mrs. Anna Pyle, of Crton avenue, and Mrs. Charles E. Allen, of Haus avenue, will leave this evening to spend several days with Mrs. David D. Reid, of Brookville, Pa.

Highway Safety Plan Is Waiting Federal Approval

Plan Suggested By State Highway Police Head Will Eliminate Accidents

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, July 24.—A novel highway safety program proposed by Capt. Wilson C. Price, superintendent of the state highway patrol, as a works project under which out-of-state motorists would be halted at the state's borders as they entered Pennsylvania and presented with diagrams of Pennsylvania's driving requirements, will be submitted to Edward N. Jones, state works administrator, probably this afternoon, Price said today.

Price said he believed Jones would forward it to Washington immediately, where he predicted it would be approved Monday.

Eliminate Accidents. Such a program, according to Price, would eliminate many accidents by pointing out to foreign state drivers the legal rate of speed at which they may travel on the unmarked open highways, explain the "white line" provisions on curves, unknown to many out-of-state motorists, and provide valuable touring information.

A list of the state's chief scenic and historic attractions and the shortest routes over which to reach them also would be included in the brief welcome.

Under present plans, 85 arterial highways at the state's boundaries would be manned by about 950 "white collar" instructors working in six-hour shifts. The visiting motorists would be forced to halt at "stop" signs erected at these points and borrowed without cost from the department of highways.

When the perfect auto horn is invented for the young man it will appear in front of the girl's home and call, "Yoo-hoo, Baby!"

American Is To Be Expelled

Nazi Secret Police Decide To Expel M. C. Narbeck, Religious Editor

MORE ARRESTS ARE MADE IN GERMANY

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, July 24.—Nazi secret police today decided to expel an American citizen, M. C. Narbeck, editor of a religious magazine published at Berne, Switzerland, who was held here for six days on a charge of sedition.

While the Nazi whip continued to crack around the heads of Catholics, Jews and "Reactionaries," the secret police, replying to requests from the American consulate, finally announced Harbeck "will be in Berne by Friday."

He was arrested while attending a Bible institute convention here.

Amid an unceasing flood of countrywide reports of further isolation of Jews and curbing of Catholic activities came the explanation today that the Catholic clergy and hierarchy are maintaining a discreet silence in order not to embarrass the Vatican in an anticipated protest to Berlin.

Bishops are wisely refraining from adding fuel to the flames, Catholic sources said, to avoid giving the Nazis an opportunity to charge violation of the papal concordat, thus nullifying the effect of Vatican representations.

Protest May Go Unanswered

So far as could be learned, the protest filed with the foreign office last week by the papal nuncio in Berlin is unlikely to receive a satisfactory reply, and may go altogether unanswered.

Orders against any provocative acts by storm troopers or Hitler youths were renewed today, but police and civic governments showed no let-up in their drives.

Raiding the Catholic bishop's palace at Heilsberg, state police confiscated four black, red and gold flags of the German Republic, illegally stored there by Catholic youth organizations.

Police at Koenigsberg, East Prussia, announced the arrest of several Jewish women on charges of spreading unfounded reports in Lithuania of atrocities against Jews.

Two Jewish merchants, Hirschberg and Kowalski, were arrested on charges that they were hired by a Communist, Karl Zander, to smash windows in another shop. Zander was also arrested.

Shipbuilding Strikers Firm

Refuse To Go Back To Jobs When Officials Of Ship Yards Open Gates

(International News Service) CAMDEN, N. J., July 24.—Mass picketing of land and river approaches to the New York Shipbuilding corporation continued peacefully today as open gates for the second consecutive day failed to attract more than a scattered few of the 4,600 strikers.

Falling to break the 11-week walkout by calling back to work a former employee who cared to resume employment under conditions prevailing before the strike, the company last night sought a temporary injunction to restrain picketing. Vice chancellor Francis B. Davis denied the application but set Friday for arguments on the issue of a permanent writ.

Meanwhile, union spokesmen said they have been informed the navy department is considering handing down an ultimatum to the company, directing it to recognize the union and end the walkout which has delayed production of $42,000,000 worth of destroyers and cruisers.

After announcing the plant will not bid on the new naval contracts on August 7th because of the strike, John F. Metten, president of the company, posted a $250 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person assaulting or intimidating any employee who returns to work.

Boy Scouts Volunteer To Aid City-Wide Collection Here Next Week

Boy Scouts of several New Castle troops will aid the City Rescue Mission in its campaign on July 29, 30 and 31 and August 1 for public donations of jars and crocks to be used for its winter canning work, Superintendent B. J. Watkins announced today.

The scouts will accompany the mission truck into all sections of the city, seeking donation from residents. The mission asks all who wish to contribute to announce their intentions by phone.

The food, to be canned by various rural church groups that have volunteered their services, is the supply for needy folk and transients.

U. S. Ready To Accept Britain's Naval Program

New Form Of World Naval Limitation Is Being Proposed

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The United States is prepared to accept Great Britain's plan for a new form of world naval limitation.

This was learned today as the State Department showed a growing disposition to co-operate with Britain in averting a world naval race. The British proposal, as understood here, provides that the principal world naval powers state what their naval building programs will be for a specified number of years, probably five or six, and promise to notify each other if any change in their respective programs is contemplated.

This government is willing to notify Britain as well as the rest of the world what its naval building program is intended to be for the next few years and also is willing to promise, providing the other naval powers do likewise, to give advance notice if any change is contemplated.

The State Department is prepared to state that the American naval building program is designed to bring the American fleet up to the level of existing treaties by 1942. It further is prepared to state that program will continue to represent American naval aims unless some other naval power seriously impairs existing relative naval strengths by building in excess of the levels provided for in existing treaties. In such event, the United States will reserve the right to build as it sees fit.

Although willing to state that American naval plans are designed to achieve existing treaty strength by 1942, the State Department does not feel free to commit itself as to exactly how many ships will be built each year beyond those which actually have been appropriated for by congress.

However, it is willing to state that tentative plans call for the construction of 12 destroyers and 6 submarines each year for the next three years and at least one or two battle-ships each year for three or four years commencing in 1937.

CREW MUTINIES ON TRAMP SHIP

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 24.—The crew of the tramp freighter Margo mutinied today as the boat was about to set sail for Cuba and forced indefinite postponement of her departure.

Two hours after the scheduled sailing the ship was still moored to her pier and police radio cars still standing by. It was reported 20 members of the crew were being held prisoner aboard the ship.

Trouble was said to have arisen over the refusal of Captain Nils Olaf Williams to grant the crews' demand it be paid in American dollars before sailing.

The demand was said to have been made by a committee of the crew after a representative of a seaman's union had gone aboard, half an hour before sailing time, and harangued the members insisting they organize a unit of the union.

Fifteen thousand motor vehicle deaths in the first six months of 1935 would seem to call for streamlined hearings.

Files Suit For Accounting In Huge Estate

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., July 24.—Alleging illegal conversion of $4,500,000 in stocks and bonds, Mrs. Harriet Chesebrough in a suit filed in chancery court here today demanded an accounting of the $100,000,000 estate of her husband, Robert M. Chesebrough, vaseline magnate who died 25 years ago.

Despite vast sums involved in her husband's business interests, the widow charged, she now receives only $50 a month from the estate. This, she asserted, comprises the interest on $12,642 which an executor declared to be the value of her late husband's assets.

Mrs. Chesebrough, who lives in Asbury Park, accused both her late father-in-law, Robert A. Chesebrough, and her late brother-in-law, William H. Chesebrough, of fraud. The widow's petition said these two men had fraudulently induced her to surrender the keys to a safe deposit box in New York.

Stocks and bonds valued at $4,500,000 were taken out of this box, Mrs. Chesebrough charged.

Urges Training For Policemen

Police Chiefs Hear Suggestions From Head Of State Police

AUTHORITY GIVEN FOR TRAINING NOW

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., July 24.—Committee reports and an address on "Enforcement as part of the traffic educational problem" by W. W. Matthews, director of the state bureau of safety, today opened the second day's session of the annual convention of the Pennsylvania chiefs of police association here.

Frank J. Eckart, captain of police at Wilkes-Barre, was slated for election as president tomorrow to succeed George W. Murren, chief county detective of Pittsburgh.

George J. Shoemaker, chief of police at Harrisburg, will become first vice president, succeeding Eckart.

Mayor Lynn G. Adams, superintendent of the Pennsylvania state police; district attorney Michael J. Eagen, Lackawanna county and district attorney Thomas M. Lewis of Luzerne county, were the other convention speakers.

Urges Training

Adams urged the training of prospective police officers and those already in service. He informed the delegates of a new law passed by the recent session of the legislature under which civilians and police can be trained for duty at the Hershey State Police training school. The training will be for a four month period and will cost about $35 a man for board, supplies and laundry, Adams said. The only requirement for admission is a recommendation from the mayor, police chief, sheriff or district attorney.

Eagen told the police chiefs every police department in the nation should be divorced from politics and that promotions should be made on the basis of efficient, courageous and loyal service rather than on the ability of a police officer to obtain votes or render political service.

Mail Box Battering In Rural Districts Brings New Warning

Postmaster Steen, Hearing Of Damage Cases, Issues Statement

(Special To The News)

Declaring that within the past few weeks there have been cases of deliberate rural mail box destruction reported to him, Postmaster Richard A. Steen today warned destruction-bent vandals that "mail box destruction anywhere will not be tolerated for a minute."

He could not say whether any private prosecution will result from a recent Shenango township damage case, but was emphatic in his warning that "it dare not happen anymore." The box recently was the object of someone's vandalism.

"Post office authorities erect mail boxes to stay up and not to be battered about by anybody," the postmaster declared. "If the vandalism of which there isn't much, keeps up, we intend to prosecute any who we catch destroying them."

The post office boxes, Mr. Steen reminded, are the property of the United States government.

Senate Modifies AAA Amendments

Drastic Changes Are Made In Measure; Sure To Develop Battle

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Drastically modified by the senate, the AAA amendments threaten to provoke stormy debate in conference with the house.

The senate stripped the house bill of many of its provisions for federal control and licensing of food producers and handlers. Senate progressives forced into the bill a provision permitting suits against the government to recover processing taxes, both past and future.

Another senate amendment would give President Roosevelt discretionary power to fix quotas on competing imports and another would appropriate $40,000,000 to enable the secretary of agriculture to carry out his program for purchase and eradication of diseased cattle. This would raise the total appropriation for this work to $90,000,000.

The administration's foreign trade agreement policy had a close shave from amendments offered by Senators McCarran (D) of Nevada, and Vandenberg (R) of Michigan. They were shelved after close votes.

President Seeks To Speed Program On New Tax Bill

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 24.—President Roosevelt today moved to speed action of the new tax bill which is making slow progress in the house ways and means committee. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, apparently acting at the request of the white house, offered to appear before ways and means committee Democrats in closed session to discuss the program.

The Democrats, however, refused the offer temporarily and decided to go ahead writing their own inheritance, gift, individual and corporation tax measure.

Ban Youth From Beverage Parlor

Alleged Trouble And Theft Of Money Results In Arrest Early Today

Following trouble at the Moonlight Gardens in Liberty street at 2 a. m. today, Jerry Pacurar and Ike Russo, youths, were arrested and in police court today Russo was discharged but Pacurar's case was continued.

The proprietor, Francis Sparano, alleged that Pacurar and Russo had been refused drinks and when they were leaving Pacurar picked up several dollars which belonged to another customer. Sparano alleged he saw the act and demanded the return of the money.

A fight started in which the owner of the money and a friend became involved with Russo and Pacurar and police arrested the latter two.

Pacurar told the mayor that if he took the money which Sparano recovered, he did not remember it. Russo said he did not see Pacurar take it and became involved in the argument because he was with Pacurar.

Pacurar was informed he could not enter the place for a year. Russo was discharged.

Man Beaten By Strike Pickets

Outburst Occurs At Camden, N. J., In Shipbuilding Strike Early Today

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J., July 24.—One worker was severely beaten today when minor disturbances broke out during the New York shipbuilding corporation's second attempt to break an 11-weeks' old strike of 4-600 workers by throwing open its gates to former employees.

Aroused to fighting pitch as a caravan of automobiles, loaded with workers, entered the plant just before the "final 7:40 whistle," 4,000 picketers, including wives and children of strikers, were held in check by a cordon of police, armed with riot guns and tear gas.

The beaten man, William Geif, 42, was rescued by police after he had been pummeled by several persons. Unions leaders charged he had tried to persuade strikers to return to their jobs.

Company officials announced 406 men reported for work today, while John Green, president of the union, said only 26 "red-button" or production workers entered the gate.

Chambers' Tax Decision Gets State Attention

The recent decision of Judge James A. Chambers validating the act of the General Assembly which strikes off delinquent tax penalties and interest has attracted considerable attention throughout the state. A number of requests for copies of the decision have been received and in the advance sheets of "District and County Reports" published by the "Legal Intelligencer" of Philadelphia considerable space is given to the decision.

Prefacing a summary of the decision the article says "the first attack on the constitutionality of the Act of May 1, 1935 (No. 52) as amended by the Act of June 22, 1935, (No. 184) authorizing remission of penalty and interest on taxes delinquent for the year 1934 and all previous years upon payment of a portion of the delinquent tax, met with defeat in an opinion filed on July 13 by Judge Chambers in the case of Elder et al, commissioners, vs. McCaslin county controller, et al in the Court of Common Pleas of Lawrence County June term 1935 number 38. The acts apply to all counties in the state except Philadelphia and the decision is therefore of the greatest general interest."

Then follows a copy of the decision. The fact that it was printed in the advance reports in the journal serving the legal profession of the state evidences an unusual interest in the decision.

United States Enters Final Round Of Davis Cup Play Against Great Britain

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 24.—Giving the United States its third chance to wrest the Davis Cup from Britain's bulldog grip, Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas defeated Henner Henkel of Germany today in the deciding match of the Interzone final, 6-1, 7-5, 11-9.

His victory gave America a 3-1 lead, established the United States as England's opponent in the challenge round and reduced to the status of an exhibition the final singles of the card—a meeting between Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, the German marvel, and young Donald Budge of California.

Little hopes are held out that Budge can possibly topple the Reich veteran, but the match will have no bearing on the final outcome.

THEY'VE ALWAYS BUILT A GOOD CAR!

OF COURSE!...BUT HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW HUPP?

The most satisfying thing in our business is the incredibly deep-rooted knowledge that "Hupps" have always been GOOD automobiles.
Not so many people, however, are familiar with the equally telling advantages of the newer Hupmobiles.
Do you realize, for example, that they are considerably lower in price than any of the genuine stream-lined cars? That they are conceded to present the most highly refined and "finished" appearance among all cars of this type?

Urges Brakes On Spending

Texas Congressman Seeks To Balance U. S. Budget In Year

WOULD ABOLISH NEW DEAL AGENCIES

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1935, by International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 24.—A program to bring the nation's expenditures within its income by putting the brakes on the spending campaign was outlined today by Rep. James P. Buchanan (D) of Texas, chairman of the house appropriations committee and unofficial "watch dog of the treasury."

He proposed that congress balance the budget next year, and in so doing abolish most of the emergency agencies which have sprung up in the last few years.

As chairman of the committee which passes all money bills for congress, Buchanan is in a powerful position to check appropriations.

He based his proposals on the ground that the nation can't go on living above its income.

"Now is the time to balance the budget," said Chairman Buchanan. "We can't go on living beyond our means indefinitely. We ought to balance the budget next year."

"With improvement in business conditions, there is hope for increased revenue and decreased emergency needs."

"But if we don't cut out most of the expense of emergency activities we can't balance the budget. At the present time, income about balances ordinary expenditures. In order to balance the budget we have got to balance with nearly all of these emergency agencies."

Congress has virtually completed its appropriations for the present fiscal year. The budget bureau already is planning next year's expenditures and the house committee will begin framing next year's money bills in the fall.

Confident that the administration will move toward balancing the budget in the fiscal year beginning next July 1, Buchanan refused to believe reports that President Roosevelt has instructed aides to prepare an emergency budget.

Following a recent White House conference, it was reported that the financial and relief advisers of the president would begin preparation of next year's needs, 11½ months ahead of commencement of the fiscal year. The report also placed probable emergency expenditures next year at three to four billions.

When President Roosevelt submitted his budget to congress in January, expenditures in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, were estimated at $8,500,000,000, with an indicated deficit of $1,144,000,000.

Rag Weed Is Hay Fever Cause

City Health Officer Believes People Should Cut Weeds At Once

Persons who get hay fever each year can look for an attack about August 15, said Dr. William L. Steen, health officer for the city of New Castle when a News reporter asked the physician if weeds caused disease.

The health officer said that hay fever comes from rag weed which grows everywhere and if a hay fever sufferer is attacked he should not blame it on a next door yard even though there is rag weed there.

He said that during a high wind the pollen from rag weed can be carried from one mile to five miles but urged that persons who have weeds cut them down immediately.

Sometimes ago a communication sent to members of council requested that there should be weed cutting here.

The street department here has cut weeds on city owned property where the weeds have resulted in complaints being made to council. It was said today.

Jess H. Gibson With Chambers

Completes Sixteen Years With Lawrence; To Handle Chrysler And Plymouth

JESS H. GIBSON

After sixteen years service with the Lawrence Automobile Company selling General Motors products, Jess H. Gibson one of the best known automobile salesmen in Western Pennsylvania has taken over the position of sales manager for the Chambers Motor Company.

In the future Mr. Gibson will confine his attention entirely to Chrysler and Plymouth cars.

Mr. Gibson started selling automobiles when they were in the stage of development and has come up with the industry. Today, when every car has its selling points, the character of the salesman, his standing in the community and his own personality are vital factors in the sale of a car. These Mr. Gibson has and the evidence of this is found in the hundreds of satisfied customers he has sold.

His policy of the "customer first" has been a policy that bore fruit. Never has he sacrificed truth for the purpose of selling a car. His sales have been made with the idea of repeat sales later on and to accomplish this he has refused to deviate from the highest standards of salesmanship.

He believes in the quality of Chrysler products, otherwise he would not have associated himself with them. The same honesty and high purpose that has marked him in the past sixteen years of automobile sales, will be given to Chrysler products, for in his new position he will be handling cars of proven quality and performance.

Health Survey Being planned

Nation-Wide Health Inventory Is Proposed By U. S. Body

WASHINGTON, July 23.—A nation-wide health inventory to determine the extent and severity of chronic diseases and other physical impairments has been proposed by the United States Public Health Service.

Application for an allotment of $3,450,000 from the work relief fund for such a survey has been filed. The survey would be conducted in 50 selected cities, giving a cross-section of information on the country as a whole.

The study would be directed toward such afflictions as infantile paralysis, arthritis, deafness, blindness, Bright's disease, and other maladies incapacitating persons for employment.

Four Phases In Study
The study would include the following phases:

1. A house-to-house canvass to obtain records of the prevalence of chronic diseases and illnesses of long duration in sample groupings of the general population of various income levels.

2. Physical examinations by physicians, supplemented by available hospital records.

3. A survey of medical facilities for the care of the sick, with special reference to chronic diseases.

4. An intensive study extending over several years, as a part of the regular research of the public health service, of the importance and effect of chronic ailments on the capacity of the patient and family to remain self-supporting and in other respects to carry on as useful members of society.

Then supper was enjoyed, followed by organization of three mushball teams with Geraldine Flick, Betty Eyer and Janet Hartland. In the later evening, a program was presented in the dining room and the campers were made acquainted with the program they will follow throughout their stay.

BARNES TO QUIT POST IN EARLE'S CABINET

Revenue Head Resigns Place

To Leave Governor's Cabinet On July 31, He Announces Today

THIRD CHANGE IN EARLE'S CABINET

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 24.—Speculation was rife today over the appointment of a successor to H. Edgar Barnes of Overbrook, who resigned from Gov. George H. Earle's cabinet as secretary of revenue in order to be able to devote all his energies to an active campaign for the state supreme court.

Governor Earle said he had not yet given any thought to the appointment of a successor to Barnes, whose resignation is effective July 31, and it was considered possible the post may be held open pending the outcome of the fall election. Meanwhile, Clyde M. Sheffer, a holdover from the Pinchot administration, was ranking official in the department which is now engaged in the enormous task of collecting the many new taxes levied by the legislature for relief.

Cause For Action.
In submitting his resignation, Barnes, who is a close personal friend of the governor, said:

"I have tendered by resignation as secretary of revenue to Governor Earle effective July 31 because on August 1 I shall begin my active campaign for justice of the supreme court of Pennsylvania. I believe it is unjust to the taxpayers of the state and morally wrong to receive salary from the commonwealth while campaigning in view of the fact that I shall be unable to devote my full energies and my undivided attention to my official duties as head of one of the most important departments of the state government."

The resignation from the $12,000 a year post was immediately accepted without comment by the governor.

Not Unexpected.
Barnes' resignation had been expected in administration circles but not so suddenly. He was believed to have acted so quickly because of the bitter campaign being waged against him by Judge Michael A. Musmanno of Allegheny county. Barnes was endorsed for the supreme court nomination by the Democratic state committee at a meeting here June 18 and will have the undivided support of Governor Earle and members of his cabinet in the campaign.

The cabinet change was the third since Governor Earle took office. Edward N. Jones had previously resigned as secretary of labor and industry to head the new works progress administration. He was succeeded by Ralph M. Bashore, who resigned as secretary of forests and waters. Thomas Buchanan of Beaver county succeeded Bashore.

What A World!
5 Billions More?
First He Sang A Hymn.
Have You Any Toggenburgs?
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

RIOTING BETWEEN Hindus and Mohammedans is spreading in India, much shooting, thousands arrested.

In China, thousands flee from the rising floods of the Yellow River that occasionally picks out a new path to the sea, drowns many, wipes out villages on its way.

A German newspaper, the Voelkischer Beobachter, says Catholics in Germany are "Public Enemy Number One." Catholic youth organizations are banned.

Anti-Semitic riots broke out again in Berlin. Jews are forbidden to use the public baths at Stettin, official explanation:

"Jewish men molested blonde German women and girls."

In New York, three men with no particular prejudice, hatreds or opinions, simply tired of living, jumped off ferry boats into the North River, and drowned.

A man from Mars, looking at us, might say, not knowing that suicide is a sin:

"I wonder why they all stay on such a world."

SENATOR BORAH, one of the Senate's able men, predicts that congress will sit until November 1, and that five thousand, one hundred and twenty millions more will be appropriated for immediate spending. That would make about an even ten billions in extra appropriation for this year.

Two billions of the money would pay the soldiers' bonus in "greenbacks," and three billion would be used to take up mortgages on farms.

IF THE government does decide to "put out" five billion more dollars, let us hope it will not insist on interest-bearing bonds that would increase the ultimate debt by 100 per cent, without necessity.

Our government bonds, with no gold back of them, no limit to their amount, represents true inflation. Why insist on doubling the taxpayers' load by inflation plus interest?

NEWELL P. SHERMAN, choir

singer, Boy Scout master, who fell in love with a girl sixteen, admits that to make his way clear he up-set a canoe, throwing the mother of his two children into the water, kept pushing her away from the boat until she sank and drowned. This young gentleman is six feet four inches tall, but the electric chair can doubtless be arranged to fit him.

YOU WILL hope that no tender-hearted parole board will say "he ought to have another chance." One chance to drown the mother of your two children seems enough. Interesting touch. The murderer of his young wife, sobbing appropriately, told how he sang a hymn to the mother of his children, just before drowning her. He has a beautiful voice.

The idea of drowning her came to him while he was singing the hymn. What hymn could it have been?

A LADY wishes to experiment raising Toggenburg goats in New York's Catskills. She thinks thousands of high acres now idle could be made useful with goats, in those beautiful mountains. The lady wants "the kind you can milk, that have kids good to eat," also wants to know whether the males would defend the females and kids from dogs, or must the fence be "dog-tight." If you know about such goats, write to Mrs. C. in care of A. Brisbane, 220 South Street, New York City.

P. S.—The lady will listen to reason if you think you know a better goat than the Toggenburg for the Catskill mountains. Perhaps A. D. White, of Swift & Company, has goats for sale. Mention price f. o. b. Pine Hill, N. Y.

ROME REPORTS Fascist excitement because "Japan assumes the role of Abyssinian champion."

Mussolini's press says Japan sets herself up as leader of Asiatic and African peoples, "against the civilization and culture of the white race."

A Fascist newspaper calls Japan "the enemy of Europe and America, dreaming of world conquest." That seems to be a keg of powder with only a spark lacking.

THERE IS a general strike in Terre Haute, thousands involved in a walkout, not authorized by their labor leaders, a food crisis threatening.

In a government building program in New York City, with union men holding key positions, it is feared all work may be held up by strikes, full union wages being demanded wherever union men work.

If that happens it will mean 100,000 men out of jobs, men not members of unions that would take the pay offered, gladly.

New York Woman Seeks Damages

Woman Says "Sock On Jaw" In Reno Worth $75,000; Sues Pittsburgh Oil Man

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 24.—Mrs. Lavina Y. Tucker, New York, has filed a $75,000 damage suit in federal court here against a Pittsburgh oil man who struck her such a blow in Reno last January that it literally loosened her teeth and impaired her hearing.

Pitt M. Nutty, the defendant, is charged with having appeared at the plaintiff's table where she was dining in the Hotel El Cortez, Reno, last January 29. Nutty, the suit avers, was clad only in lounging robe, trousers and slippers.

Without warning, Nutty swung a haymaker that caught the defenseless woman full in the face, her petition alleges. And when she sought protection at the hotel desk, the complaint continued, Nutty proceeded to beat up the hotel clerk who came to her aid.

The Pathetic Case of the Daleys

Now Mrs. Wash Daley was as clean as could be, Every day she would bathe, sometimes two, maybe three But her house was a sight like you never did see—

'Twas a mess from bottom to top.

Her husband came home while she was at bath And thru the debris tried to blaze him a path; In a voice, long with-held, but now choking with wrath Cried, "You're the champion housekeeping flop."

From in between splashes came words, ringing true, "I don't like this muddle any better than you, "But without any servants, what can I do?"

"I'm not a magician, you know."

Pa Daley thought deeply, 'twas truth that she spoke. "But I can't afford servants on the salary I make." He picked up the paper—"Ah! Here's a break!"

"Electric Rates strike a new low."

"Electric Servants! That's the answer, efficient and cheap. "The first cost is low, and now, down goes upkeep. "A washer, an ironer, a machine that will sweep, A refrigerator, a range," cried he.

He sprang from his chair, he tore to the phone, He ordered the servants sent up to his home. Now the house of the Daleys is clean as a bone And the Mrs. takes baths two and three.

Youths From Lawrence County Are Receiving Practice On Rifle Range

(Special To The News)
PORT MEAD, Md., July 24.—Monday morning, the 23 youths from Lawrence County, who are encamped here with 2,600 other young men from the Third Corps Area, began their practice on the rifle range. The range work is scheduled to end today. Awards will be given for the highest scores.

Several heavy storms broke over the camp over the week-end, the wind causing some of the tents to collapse, but the rain failed to bring relief from the heat.

Saturday, July 27, will be visitors day, and a number of friends and relatives are expected here to visit the boys in camp.

Cook's Forest Draws Army Of Visitors

(Special To The News)

CLARION, Pa., July 23.—At Harper's Ferry, West Virginia, one is able to stand on one spot and touch the states of West Virginia, Virginia and Maryland. At this spot John Brown made one final stand for freedom during the Civil War. In Pennsylvania one finds a spot comprising 6,055 acres of land extending into the counties of Clarion, Forest and Jefferson. Here too, is a stone from which one can step off onto anyone of these counties. On this plot of ground are God's gift to man, trees, making a final stand against man's onslaught of civilization.

This spot, Cook Forest by name, lies along the Clarion river about sixteen miles from Clarion and extends on into the northeastern portion of Clarion county. These trees, a remnant of the old black forest, form the largest remaining tract of virgin timber in Pennsylvania and through an Act of Assembly in 1927, will remain as public property and will preserve for all time a portion of the primeval Penn's Woods.

Nature's Garden Spot

To call Cook Forest "Nature's Garden Spot of the Country" would be an exaggeration in the minds of those persons who have never experienced a day or week, or even an hour, in the midst of the large statue-like trees that therein abound. But to the person who has experienced a visit to this portion of Pennsylvania, it would be a true saying as it creates a lasting memory that will never be forgotten.

Many trails wind their ways throughout this large tract of timber. An early morning hike will open one's eyes to the wonder of nature as black, red and grey squirrel play through the trees. Birds of a hundred different species are to be found. Deer abound by the hundreds and all are protected by the state. Plant life, pines and hemlock aid in completing the picture as one's eyes fall upon rhododendrons, mountain laurel, ferns and mosses.

Many good roadways have been constructed throughout enabling comfortable travel through the park. Riding stables have been erected for those lovers of a few hours gallop along the trails or through the woods on horseback. Swimming facilities are also present and some of the best fishing in the state can be found at that place.

Good Water

Healthful drinking water, tested by the state, is found in abundance and fuel for cooking is furnished on the grounds, as are also modern wood cooking stoves. In a visit to the park one has his choice of numerous trails, all of which are well marked and which penetrate into the depths of the forest. The main trail, Longfellow, has its beginning at the large picnic grounds at which place a log cabin has been erected offering eating and resting facilities for visitors. In walking along this trail one is able to see the largest compact tract of white pine remaining in the state.

Other trails in the order of their importance are: Rhododendron, Seneca, Mohawk, Hemlock, Deer Park, Ridge, Birch, Indian, Joyce, Kilmer and Tom's Run. Seneca Trail affords the visitor a fine view of the valley as he reaches Cook Forest Lookout Point or Seneca Point at the end of this trail. Hemlock Trail is more attractive now.

since the rhododendrons are in bloom as this trail leads into large clumps of these plants.

Trout Fishing

For the trout fisherman the Tom's Run Trail offers a veritable store of pleasures. Winding back into little frequented spots he can find many pools abounding in this elusive member of the finny tribe. All in all to really enjoy the beauty and quietness of this park one must travel one or more trails before they can really begin to appreciate that which has been made possible for them by nature.

The park headquarters are located at Cooksburg on the Clarion river at the entrance to the park from state route number 36. At this point an old mess hall formerly used by raftsmen who worked along the river has been reconstructed into an inn retaining many of its old time features such as kerosene lanterns, unfinished walls etc.

At one time privately owned, this section of land was purchased from the heirs of the A. Cook Sons' estate by the state about 1925 for a mediocre sum, part of which was raised by popular subscription. Now it is preserved by the state as a monument of nature for wondering man who knows nothing but the bustle and hurry of life to gaze upon.

It isn't necessary to build a mousetrap. Do a better political song and dance than the other fellows and the voters will beat a path to your door.

Eckert Favors Liberalization Of Divorce Laws

By ARTHUR C. WIMER

Special Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24.—Representative Charles L. Eckert of Beaver favors liberalizing the divorce laws of the nation's capital.

Under existing statute, adultery is the only basis for divorce in the District of Columbia. This week, however, the House of Representatives passed a bill liberalizing the law so as to allow divorce upon grounds of cruelty, desertion, habitual drunkenness, incurable insanity, and moral turpitude. Representative Eckert was one of those who voted for the bill.

The measure has already passed the senate and now awaits only minor adjustments by conferees of the two legislative chambers.

ly and was driven to Warren today by his daughter. Death was due to a stroke, it was said.

Dr. Jackson was long prominent in Masonic organization and was well known throughout Western Pennsylvania. He was a member of the New Castle Consistory.

BANDIT GETS CASH AT BOY SCOUT OFFICE

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 24.—Walking into the office of the Boy Scouts of America, and pointing a gun at pretty, red-headed Dorothy Luzier, bookkeeper, a bandit obtained $175 Tuesday morning and escaped as Miss Luzier fainted.

"I don't want scrip or checks," the gunman said, as he walked over to the desk. "I just want some money to tide me over."

He forced Miss Luzier to give him the bills which were on her desk. "I was so frightened I couldn't say anything," the bookkeeper said.

Formula

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 24.—The United States is willing to abandon the "ratio system" as a basis for limitation and adopt any other formula that will result in limitation without seriously disturbing the existing relative strengths of the world's navies.

The British admiralty announced England had definitely abandoned the principal of naval ratios and was seeking to accomplish the same result by some other means.

Abandonment of the ratio system by the United States and Great Britain was seen here today as a move to enable Japan to save its face at home and enter a new naval agreement based on "equality of rights."

Japan denounced the Washington Naval treaty on the grounds that the ratio system, which stipulated that the United States and Britain should have five tons of navy ships to Japan's three, implied moral superiority by the Western Powers over the Nippon empire and was an affront to her national honor.

Frederick H. Bryant ruled today at the opening of Schultz' retrial for alleged income tax evasion. The order made him a prisoner of the United States government. Defense counsel were dumbfounded and protested vociferously. Their protests went unheeded by the court.

"I know of no rule requiring me to give a reason for remanding the defendant to custody," Judge Bryant said. "Then he offered: 'If he wants one I'll give it to him.'"

The startling move is believed to be part of the government's intention to "crack down" on Schultz in its campaign to send him along the trail blazed by Al Capone and Waxy Gordon.

Chambers Co. Marking Decade

Ten Years Of Successful
Business Being Celebrated
Thursday And Friday

Marking ten years of successful business in New Castle the Chambers Motor company of Croton avenue will hold a two day "open house" Thursday and Friday, July 25-26. From the president down to the newest employe the company is devoting the two days to the marking of this auspicious anniversary and the entire facilities of the huge plant will be utilized for that purpose.

Starting modestly in 1925 the Chambers Motor company has expanded every year until today they have an organization of 34 people with a payroll of over $30,000 per year, and today the company is the largest distributor of motor cars between Pittsburgh and Cleveland, O. Only through the application of sound business principles could a business have been expanded as has the Chambers Company and the fact that it has sold over 5000 Chrysler and Plymouth cars in the past ten years is an evidence of the soundness of the company and the personnel.

The public is invited to attend the celebration activities in the plant of the Chambers Company at 825 North Croton avenue on Thursday and Friday. Free talking pictures will be displayed, prizes will be given to every one and in short the two day celebration will be just an old fashioned birthday party, celebrating ten years of achievement.

The company is headed by R. H. Chambers, president; T. E. Chambers, secretary and general manager and C. R. Birney, vice president.

Nail Is Swallowed By Little Girl

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa.—While watching her father at a carpentering job at the family home in Muncy valley, two-year-old Dolores Remsnyder was intrigued with the way he sometimes held a nail or two in his mouth while hammering.

Dolores tried it too. The nail slipped. A fluoroscope at the local hospital revealed the nail in the child's stomach. A doctor told the father, Walter Remsnyder, that the proper diet would remove the nail.

TO PROBE CHARGES
HARRISBURG, July 24.—An investigation will be launched by the State Department of Labor and Industry into charges that Charles A. Reber, head of the Allentown state employment office, has shown discrimination in placing workers in relief jobs, it was learned today.

The charges, made by Rep. James J. McDermott, head of a legislative investigating committee, will be probed by the department which has learned of them informally. Robert L. Johnson, state executive relief director, has been requested to make an investigation also.

Mass Pioneering Usually Failure

Attempts To Colonize As In Matanuska, Alaska, Generally Fizzle Out

REPORT PEOPLE ARE DISCONTENTED

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, July 24.—Mass pioneering in Alaska evidently is a fizzle.

The Matanuska Valley colony is reported in a violent state of discontent again. It was in a similar state once before, and that time it was hushed up, but it doesn't stay hushed.

The colonists say they can't stand the hardships.

Yet Alaskan Territorial Delegate Anthony J. Dimond describes their kind of pioneering as "pioneering de luxe."

FORMERLY—
Americans used to be able to pioneer.

Living, as a small boy, on the edge of what then was Dakota Territory, I saw them settle that area at a time when much of it was as unfurnished as Alaska is now. They lived in sod houses; they broke the prairie for the first time. The climate there is as severe as the Matanuska Valley's. And they didn't even realize that they were experiencing hardships.

In more recent years they seem to have lost the ability to "stand the gaff."

ALL FAIL NOW
Since the beginning of the World war I have seen three attempts at wholesale colonization made in more favorable "open spaces" than old-time Dakota, and probably more favorable than the Matanuska Valley, with which I'm not personally familiar.

They all failed.

The scene of these attempts was the South American Chaco—a good country, with a rich, virgin soil, well watered and not excessively, though rather, hot.

But it is just as nature made it.

The settler not only must build his own house; he must provide his own building materials. He must bake his own bricks, cut his own timber, dig his own well. He must do without telephone or radio or electric lights or sanitary plumbing. He must create his own civilization and 100 per cent of his improvements.

These would-be colonists simply wouldn't do it. Indeed, probably they couldn't do it. They would have died if they had stayed. They were too soft.

LED BY "TEX" RICKARD
The late "Tex" Rickard led the first party into the Argentine Chaco. It was about 300 strong and well equipped. "Tex" had a concession from the Argentine government and planned to build a cattle and cotton empire in central South America. About half a dozen of his recruits stuck it out and have done well. The remainder deserted and went home. "Tex" lost $1,000,000 on the venture.

"Alfalfa Bill" Murray tried it in the Bolivian Chaco. His followers left him bodily within a few months. The third group were Mennonites, mostly from Saskatchewan. Pacifists, they had been greatly outraged by their Canadian neighbors' treatment of them during the war. A Norwegian promoter of the name of Fred Engen, offered to find a new home for them in the Paraguayan Chaco. "What's the use?" said the Mennonites. "Presently Paraguay will have a war, too." (As it has.) "Leave that to me," said Engen, and he got a law passed by the Paraguayan congress exempting Mennonites from customs or other taxation for 10 years and from military service in perpetuity.

Thereupon the Mennonites flocked to his banner.

Engen planned a migration of 60,000 souls; a steamboat line up the Rio de la Plata and Parana and Paraguay rivers and a railroad into the Chaco.

One would think that those Saskatchewan Mennonites should have been hard boiled, but Engen never succeeded in getting more than a handful of them colonized in Paraguay, and the colony has dwindled steadily to this day—though never quite as flat a failure as "Tex" Rickard's and "Alfalfa Bill" Murray's. The Mennonites are of somewhat sterner stuff than "Tex" and "Alfalfa Bill" respective crowds.

NATURAL PIONEERS REMAIN
It is to be noted that a small pick out of "Tex" Rickard's and Fred Engen's aggregations hung on—and maybe there were a few out of "Alfalfa Bill" Murray's.

Perhaps this means that pioneering is selective; that a pioneer must choose himself—that he cannot safely be "wished" into a mass movement, like "Tex" or "Alfalfa Bill" or the Matanuska Valley experiment.

The Dakota pioneers were pioneers because, unencouraged, they were Natural pioneers.

There may not be enough of that type of folk for a mass movement. Maybe, at any stage of the game, it must be gradual.

Correct this sentence: "The van was out front, the household goods of the newcomers were being unloaded, but there were no faces behind the curtain in the adjoining houses."

Banks, Stores Agree That $2 Bill Is 'Forgotten' One

Few New Castle bankers feel, as the public has been prone to think, that it was superstition that made the $2 bill unpopular. They all agree, though, that the $2 bill is definitely "on the way out."

"You may have heard that it was superstition, but it sounds like someone's pipe dream," Executive Vice President Joel S. McKee, of the First National Bank of Lawrence County, told an inquiring reporter.

Cashier John J. Maher, of the Citizens National Bank, in part agreed with him, adding "well, I've heard that alright."

Bill Being Retired
Boiled down to the fine points, the bankers everywhere seem to be "retiring" the $2 bills whenever they appear. When one reaches a bank it usually finds its way within a short time into the Federal Reserve Bank of that district. There it stays.

McKee recalled that a $2 bill he ran across just a short time ago was the first he has seen in some time.

The average businessman never handles the $2 bills he formerly did, one banker said. Another wonders "why they keep on printing them."

A Federal Reserve Board compilation recently showed that only $32,000,000 in bills of that denomination were in circulation at the end of 1934, a decline of $11,000,000 since October 31, 1930. The depression, from those figures, saw them become more unpopular.

"No, not superstition," was the way one bank officer, his face in smiles, dismissed the conversation. "No, it wasn't that that did it. Did you ever see people superstitious or suspicious about money—good money?"

The fact that cash registers never provided a separate drawer for $2 bills was believed by several bankers to be one reason why they became unpopular with business folk.

NEW ENROLLMENT PEAK IS LIKELY FOR OHIO STATE
(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., July 24.—A new enrollment peak may be reached at Ohio State University the next school year, if present trends continue.

To date, according to the report of Examiner B. L. Stradley, freshman admissions number 763 as compared with 683 at the same time last year. This gives promise of an increase of 11 per cent over last year's freshman class, which was the largest in University history.

An event greater increase, 43 per cent, is reported in new advanced students transferring to Ohio State from other colleges.

Another fact brought out by Dr. Stradley's report is the improving quality of the freshman class. Sixty per cent of the freshmen admitted for next fall were in the upper third of their high school classes in scholarship as compared with 57 per cent last year, and 45 per cent the previous year.

Benefit Game Here Thursday

Pitching Choices Have Not Yet Been Named By Team Managers

TIN PLATERS TO PLAY OHIO TEAM

Indications are that the largest crowd of the season will be at Centennial field at 6 p. m. Thursday, when the East Side Civics of Youngstown and the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company of this city, clash in a baseball game benefit for the widow and children of the late Sankey McCullough.

The East Side Civics hold the championship of Youngstown and have a great team. The Tin Platers of this city won the flag for the first half in the Lawrence county loop and have played consistent ball and are several games ahead in the second half race.

The Youngstown aggregation will be accompanied here by President Maloney, Hamp Davis and other leading sport figures of Youngstown, while practically all of the officials and sport figures of this city and county are expected to turn out for the game.

BLACK TO USE HIS OWN TEAM

Alec Black, manager of the A. S. & T. P. said today he would use his own team against the Civics tomorrow. Last week, had the game been played he would have been required to borrow players owing to several of his players working. Such will be unnecessary Thursday. This means that Gunnett, Coates or Book will pitch for the A. S. & T. P. and either Paul McCullough or Houston for the Civics.

When the Civics take the field there will be a local flavor in their lineup as several New Castle boys have aided them in their baseball race. For instance, there are Scaglione, Huff, Huston, Gunnett and Paul McCullough. However, the lineup may be revamped for Thursday.

It was not known at this hour whether Paul McCullough will be sent to the mound for the visitors. As Gunnett is a Lawrence county leaguer and on the Tin Platers lineup, it is probable that he will draw the hurling assignment for the Tin Platers if Paul goes to the hill for the visitors.

Should this situation not come about, Gunnett may be loaned by Manager Alec Black to the Tin Platers to play with the visiting club and either Lefty Miller or Book will be sent to the hill for the A. S. & T. P. Hurlers on both teams are recognized as some of the best in this vicinity, hence prospects of a real duel.

The field will be dragged early Thursday morning and the gates will be opened at 5 p. m. The committee in charge of the game has prepared for a large crowd and Acting Chief of Police Willis McMullen, will have traffic police watching the lanes to minimize the chances of accident.

Berkeley Bell, last year's victor, scored a 6-1, 6-1 victory over Jess Millman of Los Angeles in the 48th annual invitation mixed tennis tournament at Seabright, N. J., yesterday. Frankie Parker beat Princeton's Norcross 6-2, 6-3, and Gregory Mangin, downed Martin Buxby of Miami, Fla., 6-2, 6-2. Bell, Parker and Mangin, seeded favorites, went into the third round while Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of New York bowed to Grace Wheeler of Santa Monica, 6-2, 6-4.

Benny Bass of Philadelphia turned in an eight-round victory over Frankie Wallace of Cleveland at Lancaster last night and Young Jack Gibbons of St. Paul, son of Mike Gibbons, took a decision from Frankie Battaglia of Chicago in 10 rounds at St. Paul. Louis Camps of New York won from Jerry Paul of Providence in six rounds at New York City.

There is no more charitably inclined aggregation of people in the world than sport fans. They're always willing to do their bit for those less fortunate. This has been demonstrated here time and again and tomorrow they will turn out to do their share for the widow of Sankey McCullough and their five children. As soon as Norman Buckingham and Earl Reeves heard that the committee wanted two men under bond to sell tickets at the park they leaped forward and they'll be on the job. The fans are asked to line up instead of crowding around the ticket offices which will be open about 5 p. m. The game will get under way at 6 p. m.

Wet grounds forced postponements in the league Wednesday.

Allison Needs Victory Today

(International News Service)

WIMBLEDON, England, July 24.—The obliging Herr Heiner Henkel is expected to take his second drubbing at American hands in today's Davis Cup tie with Germany today, giving American the right to meet Englander Allison, his opponent in the first of the last two matches today, was a 2 to 1 favorite, despite fears among some fans that Allison will enter the game still worn out by yesterday's terrific struggle in the doubles. Henkel has had only light practice since he lost to Donald Budge last week.

A victory by Allison will give America the challenge right by 3 matches to 1—the outcome of Budge's battle with Baron Gottfried von Cramm then being immaterial. Von Cramm beat Budge in the recent Wimbledon tournament, and is playing even better tennis now.

Buckingham And Reeves To Help

Norman Buckingham, teller at the Peoples Savings & Trust and Earl Reeves of the city treasury, will handle the ticket sale at Centennial field when the Civics play the A. S. & T. P. at 6 p. m. Thursday. They were selected by the benefit committee after they had offered their services free.

MARY HOERGER
ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD
MIAMI GIRL WHO RECENTLY WON THE THREE-METER SPRINGBOARD DIVING EVENT OF THE NATIONAL A. A. U. CHAMPIONSHIPS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 24.—Mickey Cochrane thinks his Tigers will repeat and take the American League pennant this year.

"Probably 94 victories should land the flag," said Mickey. "But whatever it takes, we'll get them."

"We may not have as many pitchers as the Yankees but then a team can only use one at a time and we have enough with Rowe, Crowder, Bridges, Auker—and for spots—Sullivan, Hoggett and Sorrell."

"We're better now than we were last year and should move into first place on our next home stand. Our biggest improvement is shown in the work of Greensberg and Pete Fox. Gehring is still about the best there is. He doesn't make the headlines but he makes the hits and runs and that's what they pay off on."

"The Indians should show more than they have but I think the Yankees will be our toughest opposition. Don't underestimate the White Sox. They've got plenty of pep, they're hitting pretty good, they're hustling and they're getting better than fair pitching."

King Levinsky Is Working Hard

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 24.—Leaping Lena Levy is talking about a million dollars. King Levinsky is chugging punches and perspiring copiously, and co-manager Harold Steinman and Trainer Izzy Klein are smiling confidently.

There's something serious about a million dollars, which may account for the strange and unaccustomed reserve of Lena and the King at their rural training camp at Round Lake, Ill.

They haven't the million quite yet, but Lena estimates that victory for her brother over Joe Louis in their brawl at Comiskey Park the night of August 7, will amount to that much in subsequent purses.

Junior soft ball is getting a big play in New Castle this year. There are 15 teams left in the two circuits. Some merry battles are expected before the championship is awarded later in the season. The following schedule will be carried out Thursday:

National League.
St. Andrews Crusaders will take a forfeit game from the Capitols Juniors. The Rads Juniors will play the Young Kangs at Viaduct field. The Young Syrians will go to Castle field for a game with the Croton Merchants. The South Side Merchants will play the East Side Merchants in the "crocial" game at Lehigh field.

In the American league the league leading Shenangos will have a fight on their hands to beat the strong Tolans A. C. Juniors. The Keystone A. C. Juniors will be at the Carnegie field against the Winters. The Phalanx will travel to Taggart field to battle the Reliabes. The Strollers will be at Lehigh field at 9:30 a. m. for a game with the Lehigh A. C.

Castlewood Tops N. C. Merchants

Castlewood topped the New Castle Merchants last night at Cascade field, 7 to 6 in a well played game. Castlewood had but nine hits but bunched them in the first, sixth and seventh for six of their runs. The home run hitters were Bartlett, Majeski and Fabian. Wheelie had the pitching assignment for the Merchants and Nelson was the winning pitcher.

Tonight the Merchants will battle the Slovak A. C. at Cascade field at 6 o'clock. Ralph Kneram will probably be the starting hurler for the Merchants tonight.

Giants-Yanks Retain Leads

Detroit Splits With Yanks And Cardinals And Giants Split Two Games

PIRATES-INDIANS IDLE BY RAIN

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Apparently baseball is like any other business in that if you give the customer what he wants he'll buy. Witness, for instance, the Yankee-Tiger doubleheader which yesterday drew 62,516 through the turnstiles and the Giants-Cardinals embroglio which induced 31,000 to quit the shade of the old apple tree for the heat of the bleachers and grandstand.

The doubleheaders led the contestants just where they were yesterday morning and assured banner crowds for today and tomorrow. And how the club owners dread those capacity crowds!

That subway world-series (Giants vs Yankees) is still safe for the moment but the writer is inclined to believe New York Fans may see only one-half of it and that half furnished by the Giants.

Both the Giants and Yanks still cling tenaciously to half-game leads in their respective leagues but the former has the better chance to step ahead. They return home soon for a long stay while the Yanks hit the road and few teams do as well in foreign territory as they do in their own back yard.

The Yanks took the opener 7-5 but the scrappy Tigers came back to take the nightcap, 3-1. Neither Rowe nor Allen lasted the route in the first game although the Yankee righthander was credited with the victory.

Hits 27th Homer.
Greenberg walloped his 27th homer in the first inning and Mickey Cochrane followed suit. Then Allen turned on the heat for several innings until Gehring parked one in the bleachers. Meanwhile Gehrig had got to the schoolboy for a round trip—and the rest of the Yanks kept pounding away at him until they finally derided him in the seventh.

Vic Sorrell, a run of the mine right hander, outpitched the noted Senor Gomez to earn an even break on the day. He was aided a little by Pete Fox, who drove in two of the Tiger markers.

The Giants again tried a pitcher who had only two days rest when they started Bud Parmelee and again the Cards showed the fallacy of this policy by driving Bud to the show. Joe Medwick bounced a couple of homers into the bleachers to make this one safe for Paul Dean.

Temporary Lead.
The Cards for the moment were in first place and matters looked black indeed for the New York delegation. But Terry then countered with Al Smith and that young lefthander by trimming Bill Walker, 8-2, despite four more hits by the rampaging Medwick.

Little attention had been paid to the endeavors of the Cubs but that aggregation picked up a game on both Giants and Cards by taking a pair from the Dodgers, 8-0 and 6-4, and are now only three games back of the Giants.

White Sox Lose.
The White Sox dropped a 2-0 decision to the Athletics although Vernon Kennedy allowed the A's out three hits. Unfortunately for Vernon two of these were bunched in one inning. The Sox got eight off Johnny Marcum but he kept them spread.

The Browns pounded Ostermuller to give Andrews a 7-2 verdict against the Red Sox. And the Braves wound up the day's festivities by winning their second straight game from the Rex Sox, 7-6, in 12 heats.

No human should ever be called a hog. When a hog has all it wants it doesn't want any more.

Pangborn Plans Non-Stop Flight To Circle World

Will Fly New 14-Passenger Transport Plane; Three Refueling Stations Planned

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Leaving here for Detroit today in his new 14 passenger Uppercu-Burnell transport plane with which he hopes to make his non-stop around the world flight, Clyde Pangborn, noted aviator, announced that everything will be ready for the flight by October.

Pointing out that it will take three re-fueling stations, he added: "We are still dickering about the flight. You see it will necessitate having ships and crews ready to take a lot of negotiations."

The plane in which he will make the flight, Pangborn said, is radical in design using the fuselage as wing space to do 27 percent of the lifting. Speed will be no object, the first man to fly non-stop between Japan and the United States said.

News From Bulls Provides Cheerful Background For Market Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 24.—Bullish trade news provided a cheerful background for the stock market
today but was reflected in strength in only a few groups.

Fresh gains in steel and power production along with better railroad traffic figures were contained in the mid-week business surveys.
Automobile production was still holding at high levels, it was stated.

Industrials Quiet
Steels and motors, however, did little better than mark time. Most other industrial shares also quieted down.

The best showing was in the farm group where Case Threshing led another substantial advance. Gains ran to over 2 points and reflected reports of the largest earnings in years. Mail orders did little.

Utilities were aided by the power production upturn. Some of the preferred were buoyant, gains running to over 3 points. Consolidated
Gas was in better demand.

Silvers Stage Flurry
Silvers staged an early flurry.
Cerro de Pasco running up around a point in the early dealings. They quieted down later. Coppers were little better than firm.

Railroad shares were less prominent and were somewhat unsettled by a decline of more than a point in Union Pacific. The general carrier price list was little changed, however.

Oil shares were firmer.
A few individual issues stood out from the pack. Stewart Warner was active in the accessories and several was involved in large dealings.
Commercial solvents gave ground
after its rise of the last few days.

Blue Chips Irregular
Blue Chips were irregular. American Can was higher but DuPont was inclined to sag. Loe's was better in the amusements. Tobacco was firm and the aviation list neglected.

Grains rose a cent on damage reports to the crop. Cotton eased.
Bonds worked irregularly higher.
The Italian lira recovered in foreign exchanges but the Dutch guilder weakened further on the cabinet crisis.

Work Projects

Delay In Providing Jobs
For Unemployed Causes
Demand For Action

MINOR PROJECTS
BEING APPROVED

By L. W. MEREDITH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The works progress administration, originally formed to check government projects to see that they provided employment under the $4,000,000,000 work relief program for those on relief rolls, was pushing rapidly to the front today as a work-providing agency for the unemployed.

Delay in providing actual employment by the PWA, which carried the banner of the 1933-34 program; the war, navy, agriculture and commerce departments, and other employing agencies, called for a speeding up of the program that resulted in Harry L. Hopkins, works progress administrator, stepping in with scores of minor, but quick job-giving projects.

Hopkins Program.
The Hopkins program calls for surveys of this, that and the other thing; making of maps; card-indexing of old records, digging ditches,
cleaning up parks, building parks,
secondary roads, sanitary outbuildings and a thousand and one other projects that were classed in some instances as "boon-doggling" under the old program. But they are projects that can be launched quickly, without weeks and months of surveys and contract preparation.

They offer the means of providing employment quickly for the 3,500,000 workers now on the relief rolls—jobs for the white-collared employables;
for the laborers, the clerks, the bookkeepers, the technicians, the chemists, the professional classes.

Recommendation by the advisory committee on allotments of $134-851,817 worth of such projects to the president, offering quick employment to approximately 200,000 persons in 13 states and the city of New York, last night makes a total of $255,554,225 already recommended to or approved by the president for supervision of Hopkins, in addition to direct relief.

Direct relief program is scheduled to end by Nov. 1 when the peak of employment is expected to be reached on the $4,000,000,000 work relief program. But to reach that peak, and to end direct relief by that time, it was necessary to find projects that could be developed quickly.

All the Hopkins program has been rushed through in the last two weeks—and more are to come—projects calling for hundreds of millions of dollars from the work relief fund.

Insurance Companies Can Invest Resources In Vast Federal Housing Projects

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 24.—Life insurance companies in Pennsylvania are permitted to invest their vast resources totaling billions of dollars in federal housing projects under an act signed by Gov. George H. Earle, it was announced by insurance commissioner Owen B. Hunt.

"This is, of course, one of the safest forms of investment that could be devised, since the loans are guaranteed by the federal government," Hunt said. "However, a new act of the legislature was required to make it legal."

"The billions of dollars in the custody of insurance companies offer a great reservoir that can be drawn upon for the elimination of slums and the provision of better housing for thousands of people at the same time affording an investment outlet backed by all the authority of the federal government."

Many other changes in the state's insurance laws also were made under bills signed by the governor. These tend to equalize the requirements made for various classes of insurance companies and to increase the protection afforded policy holders, according to Hunt.

BRONZE PICNIC

The Johnson-Bronze Company's annual picnic outing will take place at Neshaunock Falls on August 10. A sports program of interest is being arranged.

On Court House Hill

This is the open season for candidates in the opinion of the various promoters of picnics and entertainments, who feel that no program is complete without the names of aspirants for office. The citizen who is out for a day's entertainment is supposed to get a kick out of reading advertisements. Anyway the candidate has to kick in with some real coin of the realm to get his name on it. It's a lively candidate who can escape the program advertisers and a lucky one who receives any benefit.

As soon as the new registration supplies are printed the county commissioners plan to give the registrars some instructions on how to fill out the papers. To do this individually would require considerable time and effort, so that it is likely that the registrars will be assembled in the court house for instruction in a body. One of the questions which voters will be required to answer will be to give the date of birth. This will not involve any enthusiasm among the ladies, some of whom believe that their ages are nobody's business but their own.

Heretofore they have been getting by by saying that they were over 21 years of age. One of the questions on the blank calls for "Derivative Naturalization," that is, whether the applicant derives his or her right to vote from the naturalization of father or mother.

All persons who have been naturalized must present their papers to the board. This is imperative under the new law and those who fail to take their papers with them when applying for registration will have the fun of going back home for them.

Prothonotary Ralph M. Campbell this morning received a letter from Rocco Di Pippo, known also as "Roxie" Long, who was tried and convicted here of a film-flam game on local wholesale merchants, and is now serving a sentence in the Allegheny county workhouse. Soon after being sentenced here "Roxie" was tried and convicted on charges in Pittsburgh. His Pittsburgh sentence is to start at the expiration of his sentence here, and he would like to have the local court parole him in order that he may begin serving his Pittsburgh sentence. He says that he has been completely cured of his wayward tendencies, and that when he gets out of prison he is going to "go straight." Long's trial here was quite a lengthy one during which he acted as his own lawyer.

Sixty-two instruments of all kinds were entered for record at the register and recorder's office last week. Of this number 26 were deeds and 22 were mortgages. Some of the deeds were for the transfer of property which had been sold at sheriff sale. The mortgages were mostly to building and loan associations, some of them representing refinancing.

Aside from the Republican and Democratic registrations in boroughs and townships of the county only 542 were registered, according to the official returns of assessors. The prohibition party registered 217 and stands third on the list of parties. The Socialists registered only 79 voters, and the Independents 22. In addition, there were 224 who registered "No Party." The largest registration of Prohibitionists was in Scott township with 55.

According to comparisons of this year's registration in boroughs and townships, compared with last year, there has been a total gain of about 1,250 registered under the Democratic party head.

In Bessemer borough the Republican registration last year was 522 and Democratic 95, whereas this year the figures show 463 Republicans and 174 Democrats.

In Ellport borough registration last year showed 269 Republicans and 77 Democrats; this year, 279 Republicans and 96 Democrats.

Ellwood City, First Ward, showed 1,047 Republicans last year and 185 Democrats. This year, 952 Republicans and 253 Democrats.

Ellwood, Second Ward, last year, Republican 751, Democrats 124. This year, Republicans 873, Democrats 174.

Ellwood, Third Ward, last year, Republicans 887, Democrats 118. This year, Republicans 901, Democrats 179.

Ellwood, Fourth Ward, first precinct, last year, Republicans 545, Democrats 206. This year, Republicans 497, Democrats 236.

Ellwood, Fourth Ward, second precinct, last year, Republicans 604, Democrats 145. This year, Republicans 520, Democrats 226.

Ellwood, Fifth Ward, last year, Republicans 421, Democrats 82. This year, Republicans 397, Democrats 112.

New Wilmington boro, last year, Republicans 510, Democrats 50. This year, Republicans 501, Democrats 54.

Wampum boro, last year, Republicans 324, Democrats 105. This year, Republicans 375, Democrats 195.

The gain of about 1,250 votes made by the Democrats in the entire county is much less than had been generally supposed.

Prepare To Open "One Man" Stores

State Preparing To Open About 250 New Liquor Stores

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 24.—Preparations were being sped by the state liquor control board today to open 250 new "one man" stores authorized by the new liquor bill recently signed by Gov. George H. Earle.

The board expects to have most of the "midget" stores functioning in the smaller communities and suburban sections of larger cities within the next 60 days. Philadelphia will get 32 of the new miniature dispensaries and Pittsburgh 10.

The board has set a rental limit of $50 a month for the new stores and landlords will be required to make repairs and furnish heat at their own expense. Leases will be on a two year basis with an option for another two years. Only brick, stone, stucco or other fire resistant buildings will be considered.

Only a few of the sites for the new stores have been selected although the board has decided in which communities they will be opened. Leases were expected to be signed shortly.

The stores were designed for the convenience of patrons in smaller communities where no facilities exist at present in the hope of reducing the bootlegging business in those sections.

Comes From Half Way Around World

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, July 24.—A missionary whose station at Sadya, Assam, North India, is only 25 miles from Thibet, and who is the nearest white man to the savages of that uncivilized country, has been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Hoyt, of South Center street. He is Rev. John Selander, a Grove City College alumnus, who was here with his wife and daughter.

Rev. Selander's station is almost exactly one-half the distance around the world from Western Pennsylvania. He is connected with the American Baptist Mission.

URGE CAR OWNERS TO GET STICKERS

HARRISBURG, July 24.—Motor vehicle owners were urged today by the Department of Revenue to have their cars inspected early during the second inspection period of the year, which opens August 1. Governor Earle has issued a proclamation fixing the time between August 1 and October 31 as the period for owners of motor vehicles to have their cars inspected.

Grove City Strong For Republicans

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, July 24.—Incomplete registration figures Grove City Borough indicate no change in the prevailing Republican sentiment of local voters. The final registration before the September primaries was held last Wednesday, and two of the six precincts have not reported, but the four precincts filed at Mercer show that Grove City Republicanism has not lost ground, and that this town remains the party stronghold in the county.

Last November, when the county went Democratic for the first time in its history, Grove City was one of the few towns which remained in the Republican ranks, and its G. O. P. majority was by far the greatest in the county. As a result, the horde of county candidates seeking the 17 offices are concentrating their efforts here.
